1. UPDATE OF DLI PRACTICE MANUALS

Due to the introduction of the Planning and Development Act 2005 on 9 April 2006; the Town Planning and Development Act 1928 was repealed.

This has led to a lot of changes with regard to subdivision of freehold land. To reflect these changes, the DLI practice manuals have been updated.

The latest editions are as follows:

- Land Titles Registration Practice Manual Edition 7.3 (July 2006);
- Strata Titles Practice Manual Version 3.1 (August 2006); and
- Survey and Plan Practice Manual Edition 4.1 (August 2006).

The practice manuals can be viewed online and/or downloaded free of charge to the desktop of a personal computer from the DLI corporate website at:

<http://www.dli.wa.gov.au/corporate.nsf/web/publications> .

It is no longer necessary to become a subscriber via the DLI Land-on-line website to download these practice manuals and as such, this subscription service has been discontinued. Please note that due to a lack of demand, it is also no longer possible to order hard copies and CD ROM versions of these manuals from DLI.

2. REFUND OF DOCUMENT LODGEMENT FEES.

The refund of fees for any Document lodgement will be accompanied with a DLI “With Compliments” slip containing the following details; the lodging party, parties or reference, document number/s, examination group, amount refunded and the name and telephone number of the examiner who issued the requisition.

All enquiries in relation to the refund must now be made to the Examiner who issued the requisition on the telephone number provided on the DLI “With Compliments” slip.

The new “With Compliments Slip” will be set out as follows:

The customer enquiries DLI receives in relation to these refunds are mostly requests for more detailed information on the documents the refund is for. The inclusion of a reference by the lodging party on all documents will allow DLI to provide this important information on the DLI “With Compliments” slip with all refunds.
